DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nakamura et al '888.

Nakamura et al. teach a method and apparatus for manufacturing chain-like food products such as sausages or the like. More specifically, the apparatus includes an intestine pushing member 144 to push and advance the shirred portion 143 toward an intestine receiving member. Pinching 142 the shirred portion by and between said intestine pushing member and said intestine receiving member. Detecting means 69 for detecting said intestine pushing member has reached a predetermined position. The stuffing tube having a distal end 147 projecting from said intestine receiving member. Regarding claims 5, 10 and 1, said intestine pushing member has an intestine pushing surface for pushing the natural intestine casing. As for claims 6 and 12, the detecting means includes transmitting to said intestine pushing member driving means a signal for instructing a change of the manner of pushing and advancing said intestine pushing member. In regards to claim 7, the control means has a means for changing a transporting speed of said transporting means in response to the detection signal.

Conclusion

Summary: Claims 1-17 are rejected.
